YALE FIELD GATES OPEN; OVER 1,500 SEE PRACTICE

Cheers Urge On Varsity Until It Scores Against Scrubs—Harvard Driven Hard—Hobey Baker Aids Princeton—Penn to Drill at Night.

ARCHIE REID KEEPS ANCIENT REID MEDAL

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 12.—The Yale varsity football team defeated the scrubs today by a margin of one touchdown in the first open practice of the year. Between 1,500 and 2,000 students gathered near the campus early this afternoon, and led by a band and the crew squad, marched to Yale Field to pledge their support to the team by cheering and singing.

The cheers seemed to help things some, for it put more spirit into the work, but at that the varsity had its hands full beating the team of ineligible candidates which opposed them. The whole scrimmage lasted about twelve minutes, following the scrubs' first touchdown. The gates were opened. The scrubs got the jump on the regular team, and before they could be stopped had taken the ball within striking distance of the varsity goal line. However, the big team held its ground and the scrubs were unable to advance.

As soon as the varsity got possession of the ball on downs, the scrubs' line, which played at quarterback, got off a well executed forward pass to Scott, and the latter raced fifteen yards with the ball. He was downed. One other forward pass was attempted, but it was incomplete. With these two exceptions straight plays were made and the varsity carried the ball the length of the field in constant gains for a touchdown. Smith made the tally.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 12.—Harvard's midseason drive began in earnest this morning at the varsity practice. The team, including Fisher, Leary and Withington of last year's staff, Bradley and Wallie Trumbull, the 1914 acting captain, getting behind the regulars and making them go at top speed for an hour and a half. The voices of the coaches could be heard a half mile away from the stadium, and when the players came out it was on a slow walk. Percy Houghton is determined to find what his men can stand in the way of hard work and hopes to be able to start what will prove very nearly his final team against Virginia Saturday.

In the scrimmage between the first and second varsity teams, in which there was no scoring, the first string backs played behind the regular line. After this scrimmage the men who had made the best showing were sent against the scrubs, and also made the game a 35 yard field goal by Robinson, following some splendid line gains by Horween.

Mostly Taylor was shifted from center to guard in the scrimmage, Harris being at center and Lyman at one of the ends. It now looks like Soucy, Lyman, Taylor, Darnall and Parsons for five of the regular places. Gilman was out doing a little work, and also made the game a 35 yard field goal by Robinson, following some splendid line gains by Horween.

ARCHIE REID KEEPS ANCIENT REID MEDAL

Trophy Named for His Father Is Reward for Winning of St. Andrews Title.

GOLF ON OTHER COURSES

MOORE HOPKINS, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Archie Reid won the championship of the St. Andrews Golf Club today for the seventh time in as many years, with a score of 78, 74-152 for the thirty-six holes of medal play which constituted the championship test. In addition to winning the club title again he retained possession of the John Reid medal, named in honor of his father, and one of the oldest golf trophies in the United States. Since 1902 the medal has been won either by Archie Reid, or by his elder brother, John Reid, Jr., so for thirteen successive years it has been kept in the family of the venerable golfer whose name it bears.

Archie Reid, president of the Columbia University, led the field in the Half Century handicap, open only to members of the club who are at least 50 years of age. Reid's score was 91-82, 173. The second place was taken by Walter E. Hodgman with a score of 83-121, 174. For the members who are under 50 and who are not members of the club, a Columbia Day handicap was on the programme. The winner in Class A was A. B. Halliday, 168-24, 144, and in Class B, the leader was George W. Elkins, 138-42, 145.

Something new in golf tournaments has been devised by the golfers of the University Club, who were among the first to hold one day tournaments in this section of the country. For over a decade the University Club golfers have held their competitions twice a year, and the fields have been growing bigger with each succeeding tourney until it has become a difficult task to accommodate all that want to play.

In order to do away with the over-crowded problem, the committee charged this year's fall tournament has arranged for the use of two courses, Nassau and Piping Rock, both of which will be given over to the University Club golfers on Wednesday, October 20. The field will be divided into two sections, one of which will play at Nassau in the morning while the other will play at Piping Rock. After lunch the two sections will swap courses, those who play at Nassau in the morning going over to Piping Rock for their second round, and the Piping Rock contingent transferring its activities to Nassau.

Enough automobiles will be provided to transport the golfers from one course to the other, and the committee expects that the utilization of the two courses will enable well over a hundred golfers to take part in the tournament, a feat which has hitherto been impossible.
